Letter From Revd. Zoe

Dear friends

Story telling is a key method of communication between human beings. Each person has a personal story to tell – a story of ups and downs: of growing up, of love and heartache, of joys and pain, of achievements and disappointments......

To quote John Donne, 'no person is an island entire of itself' – each person's story is part of a family story, their friend's story and the community where they live and work. Life is very inter-connected and what happens to one person impacts the lives of others. Some of these stories are recorded in diaries and history books.

I have the privilege of listening to families tell the story of their loved ones which I am privileged to re-tell at their funeral services. The retelling of our stories reminds us of who we are and what we are called to do within our families, homes and communities where we belong.

In November we will gather at Remembrance Sunday services to remember the fallen. Their stories speak of bravery, courage, cost and sacrifice. As we read their names, stories, emotions and feelings are all re-kindled. We re-member their stories and are influenced by their stories and the lessons learnt and in light of this, we re-commit to seek peace and justice locally, regionally, nationally and internationally.

Each Sunday in church we re-tell the big overarching story of God's love, we re-member who God is and in light of this, discover who we are; we re-member what God's has done, continues to do today and will do into the future and in light of this what we are called to do. Each of our own stories are part of and woven into the big story of God. As we come to know God's big story we discover that this gives meaning and purpose to our lives.

Go on telling your stories and listening attentively to other people's stories including God's big story that we might continue to be shaped and formed and become better people playing our part responsibly that the world might be a better place to live in for all people.

Blessings Rev Zoe

Get Well Soon

We are sorry to hear that Richard is still in hospital after his accident. We wish him a speedy recovery and hope he will soon be back home.

Harvest

Our annual Harvest festivities began on Wednesday with the church starting to be decorated with lovely, huge, yellow sunflowers and orange Chinese lanterns. It looked beautiful when it was finished with the front pillars decorated in the traditional style and lovely displays of sunflowers which were complemented by the attractive decoration in the windows. Well done to everyone who did all the work.

It looked very good for our service on Friday evening, which was well attended and taken by Lay Reader Joan Wood from Farnsfield.

As was reported last month, new bell ropes had been purchased using a donation from the estate of the late Nora Kent. On Friday evening we were joined by Nora's daughter, Jean, and her two children, Anabel and Lucy, who had come all the way from Warrington, and also Nora's sister Margaret.

Before the start of the service the congregation sat and listened to the bells ringing as it was the first time they had been rung since having the new ropes. Joan then thanked the family and also the bell ringers.

The service then continued with Mike Jackson and Simon Hill reading the lessons and Graham Laughton playing the organ.

After the service everyone made their way to the newly refurbished Village Hall for supper. Our thanks to Anna Hill for all her help and to everyone else who helped. It was our first time catering in the new kitchen and everything seemed to go well.

Harvest Competition and Auction

The weekend continued with the usual competition on Saturday afternoon. Produce, crafts and children's items were entered this year and it was nice to have some new names on the entries for the first time, which took the total to 138 entries.

This year the cookery table was full and groaning with a tempting display of home made goods. Everyone who entered had obviously made a big effort.

The produce section was also full with a wide variety of items including some less familiar ones ranging from eggs through tomatoes, apples and beans to grapes and a chilli. In a strange year in the garden once again it was good to see some really lovely fruit and veg There was also good support for the photography classes with some well printed examples. The flower growers had had a difficult time of it with some hostile weather in the past week, so it was good to see some people had managed to cultivate some blooms.

After all the judging came the family Service, also taken by Joan Wood with Margaret Lindley playing the organ. After the service Janet and Jean served tea and cakes.

The evening continued with Mike Jackson presenting the prize cards to the competition winners. The Roses and the Hills each went home with a good collection.

Mike then found himself in the role of auctioneer. He noted ruefully that he thought he had passed on the gavel, but it had found its way back to him. He was ably assisted by Ruby and Harry and Ruby's mother Paula. Grandma Brenda kept the tally as the lots flew out. It was good that nobody seemed too worried about what they were buying as the eating apples were Bramleys, the tray bake some tarts and the celery was actually runner beans. It was all conducted light

-heartedly and everyone enjoyed it.

Thank you to everyone who entered, others who brought produce to sell in the auction and to everyone who did the bidding. A total of £164 was raised, half of which will be donated to charity.

Once again thank you to everyone who helped and supported the weekend.

Remembrance

The Remembrance Service this year will be held at Kneesall at 10.30am on Sunday 10th November.

The said Holy Communion at Laxton scheduled for 4

Church Yard Wall

On behalf of the PCC, I would like to say a huge thank you to Eric Heath who has steadily removed all the ivy from the north wall of the church yard.

I'm sure it hasn't been an easy job and we are very grateful for all the effort he has put into doing it. It does look a lot better and tidier.

Keep Hackers Out of Online Accounts

The explosion in popularity of online apps and services means more of us need to remember a seemingly endless list of passwords. That can lead to shortcuts that are bad for our online security, e.g. the same password for many accounts, or an easily guessed password. You should secure important online accounts, e.g. your email, or any account holding personal / financial details, with a password that's strong and unique.

For further protection we recommended enabling two-factor authentication (2FA). 2FA enabled accounts need you to verify your identity with your password (first factor), and a randomised code (second factor) that's delivered to your smartphone. That way, if your password is stolen, fraudsters still need your phone. If your phone is stolen, they still need your password.

For instructions on how to enable 2FA on popular online services, visit www.telesign.com/turnon2fa

If you have been a victim of fraud or cyber crime, report it to Action Fraud at actionfraud.police.uk

Rotary Club 'Bras for Africa' Collection

The Rotary Club of Sherwood Forest's collection of lightly used bras and new pants for Africa continues to go well.

They are everyday items to us and it is hard to understand the huge difference they can make to women in countries where simply having underwear can protect you from unpleasant incidents and unwanted attention.

If you are able to donate anything, please drop off at School House, Laxton, next door to the Village Hall. Thank you to everyone who has already donated.

Strangely the two images in the Harvest Competition for the cover photo were both of pigs.

This one by Emily Hennell was unfortunately presented in portrait format, but it is nice to include her happy Laxton scene.

Laxton WI

At the beginning of October we enjoyed an evening at East Markham when our Group of six WIs got together for the annual autumn Group Meeting. The entertainment was provided by Los Amigos, a South American musical duo and based around Latin American instruments and music. This was followed by a lovely supper prepared by East Markham WI.

At each meeting there is a competition themed to tie in with the entertainment or speaker. This time the challenge was to depict a Latin American country. We chose Peru and thanks to Lesley, Janet and Joyce we were successful in coming first and winning the glass rose bowl. Next year we will be responsible for convening this meeting, and thinking caps are already on .

The following week, on 9th October we held our monthly meeting, when Brenda welcomed members and three guests. Instead of having a speaker for the evening, we tried something different and had a games night. We tried Trivial Pursuit, dominoes, Beetle, Scrabble, and Rummikub. Everyone got into teams and moved around every 15 minutes. This caused quite a laugh. Thanks to Sandra for organising this.

Our November meeting will be a craft night with Elizabeth Banks. She will be showing us how to make some items for Christmas. We shall be making crackers, a decoration and a card.

Members - please bring along small scissors, a landscape photo or cut out from a magazine approx. postcard size, showing a garden or similar scene and a gift suitable to put into a cracker.

Elizabeth will judge the results to find our competition winner.

Dukeries Woodturning Society

Sue Harker came to demonstrate to us in September and it was a fascinating evening. She first made an art deco candlestick from ash.

After the refreshment break she made a 6" high decorative Christmas tree, demonstrating how to cut shapes into the piece on the lathe as well as achieving the overall shape she wanted. The result was very attractive, but served as a reminder that the festive season is only just around the corner.

Sue described what she was doing as she worked. Her hints and tips on the correct use of the tools were particularly useful to the less experienced members of the large audience watching captivated as she worked.

Before the next regular meeting we have another of our popular hands on evenings. Three lathes will be available for members to try their hand on along with advice and the opportunity to get your tools sharpened. Just come along to the Hall at 7.30pm on Wednesday 20th November.

On November 27th we look forward to welcoming yet another lady demonstrator. This time Margret Garrard will be joining us in the Jubilee Hall in Ollerton at 7.30pm for what will be the last meeting of the year. As our 4th Wednesday meeting date falls on Christmas day we didn't think we would get a very big turnout!

Tickets are still available from Gordon Fisher for our Christmas Social on 14th December. This will be a good opportunity to meet fellow members socially and all spouses, partners and friends are very welcome.

For more information please visit www.dukerieswoodturning.org.uk or call Gordon Fisher on 01623 464986 / Michael Manning on 01777 870844

Ň

It was good to be back at Laxton after our long break and good to welcome back John Whitfield. This time he came to speak about WWI. He explained how war broke out, the course of the war, and how Britain changed afterwards.

Western Europe was doing well before the war, influenced by: electricity for factories, the internal combustion engine and mass production copied from the USA. Eastern Europe was the Austro-Hungarian Empire and the Russian Empire. Serbia was independent but surrounded by Austro-Hungarian empire and something of a rogue state.

The Serb killing of Arch Duke Ferdinand and his wife started the war Austrians then wanted war with Serbia; Serbia asked Russia for help; Austrians asked Germany for protection, and then France allied with Russia. It could have been stopped at this stage had someone backed down. Russia and Germany mobilised troops. German troops on the French border brought Belgium into the war, which ultimately, brought us into the war too. We only had a small army, being mainly a naval and Imperial power and not used to fighting in Europe.

The first part of the war was fought above ground but, with modern weapons, thousands were killed. Nobody realised what a modern war would be like. We lost most of our army too in the first 3 months.

By November 1914 after being driven back from Paris, the Germans dug trenches as did France and GB. Over 400 miles of trenches were dug and the war went static for 3 years punctuated by murderous offensives, such as he Battles of Verdun, the Somme in 1916 and Passchendaele in 1917. Many thousands were killed or injured here and on the Eastern Front where Austria was fighting Russia. The last 9 months of the war were the most meaningful with the Navy blockading imports into Austro-Hungary.

Russia withdrew from the war in 1917 because of Communism which left their country in shambles. Germany could bring back 1.5 million men from the Russian Front. The same year when the USA entered the war on our side they only had a small, inexperienced army but began training millions of men to come over.

Early in 1918 the Germans attacked us in France and drove us back 25 miles but we held and were reinforced by the USA. 8th August was the turning point of the battle and using tanks for the first time and aircraft and gas we pushed the Germans back. They knew they were beaten and on November 11th they surrendered. We never entered Germany and Hitler, who was a Corporal in the war, claimed they were not defeated but stabbed in the back by Jews, socialists etc.

John talked about life on the home front. Our army had eventually been made up almost entirely of volunteers, who had been encouraged by the suffragettes to join up. White feathers of cowardice were pinned on men thought not to be volunteering. Suffragettes reasoned that women be doing the jobs of men and could not be denied the vote afterwards. A lot of Irish women were brought into England to work including to Boots in Nottingham. Women were making gas masks, engineering e.g. shells for guns, were conductors and drivers on buses. USA provided us with new machinery which was easier for women to use. Women were moving out of service and making more money in war industry. Families learnt to live without a man, particularly by the end of the war with conscription.

Zeppelins followed railway lines to bomb places like Nottingham. Biplanes were used over the South of England and London, though by the end of the war we had a lot of aircraft ourselves - flown under the banner of The Royal Flying Corps. The RAF dates from 1918.

After the war servicemen were demobbed. The Liberal PM, Lloyd George, held and won an election and headed a coalition of Liberals and Conservatives. (NB the Labour Party started in 1906). In 1918 the Representation of the People Act was passed. All men got the vote and all women over the age of 29. In 1928 all women got the vote,. Meaning 18m people could now vote.

A lot of women didn't go back into service after the war. A lot of the country houses were empty or demolished, changed to schools or hospitals and many of the young men who should have inherited them were killed in the war. Men, however, wanted their old jobs back and women were sent back to their homes.

By the end of the 1920s it was felt that the war had been a waste of time and lives and the sacrifice was too great. Conditions in workplaces were appalling as they had not had the investment in them. There was much discontent and bad feeling lead eventually to the General Strike in 1926.

When World War 2 arrived the difference was that we didn't want war but Germany did.

We are going to see the map of Laxton on display in Oxford in October and our final meeting of the year will see Brian Bland and friends talking about the History of Tuxford on 20th November.

We hope to see you at our Craft Fayre on November 9th, 11-2pm

Group Oil Order

The pre-Christmas order will be placed towards the latter half of November, depending on expressed needs from group members and the price trends. We seem to have just pre-empted the effects of the latest troubles in the Middle east last time, which saw prices rise by 4p per litre in a day and over 7p/litre in total in a very short time! If you would like to order oil this time you need to send details of how much oil you will need. Your order needs to specify a number of litres. Suppliers will not 'fill the tank'. If in doubt and you really do want it full to the top, you should overestimate slightly and they will charge you for what your tank takes.

You can ask to join the list at any time by providing mobile and land line numbers, email and full postal address plus any special instructions e.g. guard dogs, gates with locks, difficult access etc. We are working from the list which was updated last year. If you have not been in touch for a while you will need to give your details again.

Please send orders to oil@openfield.org.uk from mid November. Please will long term members of the group ensure you have notified any changes to your contact details e.g. new phone number or email address. Without these you will not be contacted with a reminder, but more importantly the supplier will not be able to contact you. Please don't assume new addresses will be noted from incoming emails.

Beware Phone Text Scam

Phone users are being warned about a text scam that is doing the rounds and tricking people out of hard earned cash. Fraudsters are using a common name and an emotional story to trick people into replying to the text. But once someone replies, it costs them £20.

The text reads: "Its Emma. I tried to call you but signal bad. "I have been taken to hospital after having a fall this morning. "If possible can you do me a quick favour and text me x".

Similar scams included one targeting parents asking for phone top-up vouchers. A potential victim said that she knows lots of Emmas of all the Emmas she knows, none would message her in a crisis. She thought the text suspicious so she googled the mobile number the text was sent from and discovered that texting back would have duped her out of £20.

Victims claim to have received texts with different. One mimicked a child texting their mum for help after being involved in a car accident.

Action Fraud said: "Be cautious about answering calls and text messages from unsolicited numbers you don't recognise, especially if they start 084, 087, 080 or 090.

Flu Vaccinations

There is still time to think about booking in for your annual flu vaccination. As the older members of our community were told a couple of years ago 'You may not feel over 65, but your immune system is.'

Some of the surgeries will have further 'flu jab clinics' in November. Because the vaccines are different for different ages you should check that you book in for one covering your age group.

This 3 vaccines being given are.

- For patients over 65
- For patients under 65
- Nasal spray vaccine for pre school and primary school children

Please contact your surgery for details to see when they are offering vaccinations so that you can get yourself and your family booked in. If you can't get to a clinic, you can book in for your jab with a routine appointment or make one to get it done.

Many thanks to our regular contributor MWS for yet another insight into the life of the past. This is a page of accounts from 1885, when money was worth more than today. It covers around a month of outgoings which total just over £115.50 including some brought forward, in a period when there was no income. This is the equivalent of approximately £14,700 today. by Garlic Theatre

A Dr. Seuss world of eggcentric puppets and music. A cracking family show bursting with wonder and surprise.

It's aimed at 3-8 year olds; but many older folk remember rolling about to Garlic Theatre's earlier productions.

The Dukeries Singers

I would like to open my "catch up" with an appeal: WANTED, The Dukeries Singers are looking for a new Musical Director.

For the past three and a half most enjoyable years the choir has benefitted from the wonderful direction of Mr Ashley Williams. Under his enthusiastic leadership we have enjoyed singing a wide repertoire of music.

However he has decided to step down as Musical Director, to take effect from after the Christmas period. We shall be so sorry to see him leave and thank him for his time with the choir, but we fully understand his desire to spend more time with his family and we send all of them our very best wishes.

SO the Dukeries Singers need a new Musical Director for January 2020.

We are a friendly and enthusiastic group of singers who like to harmonise both musically and socially and have been doing so for over 40 years.

If this is a role for which you have been waiting, please do not hesitate to contact our secretary Pauline 07951609217 for details.

You can see and hear us on www.thedukeriessingers.com and also find us on Facebook, Twitter, and YouTube

You would also be welcome to attend any of our rehearsals or performances. We rehearse every Wednesday evening from 7-30pm until 9-00pm upstairs in the Theatre Foyer at the Dukeries Academy, Ollerton. This is best accessed via the Leisure Centre entrance and free car park.

Our confirmed bookings are;

Thurs 28th Nov Carol Sing at Edwinstowe Lights' Switch On.

Sat 7th Dec Christmas Concert, Jubilee Hall, Ollerton

Sat 14th Dec Carols and Christmas music, Alders Restaurant Ollerton

Fri 20th Dec Carols & Christmas music, Masonic Hall, Mansfield.

If you would like to book the Choir for your Christmas "do" or indeed for any other celebration, charity, anniversary or fund raising we have some available dates and our secretary Pauline on 07951609217 would be delighted to hear from you.

Do enjoy your Bonfire Night celebrations, may all your sparklers twinkle and your squibs not be damp Jan

Firework Time Again Please Think of the Animals

With bonfire night just around the corner, it seems a good time to remind people to take care when having firework events. They can be terrifying for animals and some people as well. At this time of year everyone with animals and some people as well. At this time of year a week or so after 5th November. If you are planning to lot

If you are planning to let off fireworks at any other time during the year, please let your neighbours with animals know so that they can take precautions Animal owners, and horse owners in particular, will quickly spread the word amongst each other so everyone will be safe and happy and your tip off will also let people who would like to watch and enjoy the spectacle know when to be at their windows

Thank you on behali of the animals and owners
